

CALL FOR DOCTORAL CONSORTIUM PAPERS

Seventh IEEE International Conference on RESEARCH CHALLENGES in INFORMATION SCIENCE

May 29-31, 2013, Paris, FRANCE

Papers submission deadline: February 15, 2013

<http://rcis-conf.com/>

RCIS 2013 is a conference of RCIS Conference Series and is sponsored by IEEE France section.

SCOPE AND TOPICS

The Doctorial Consortium of the Seventh International Conference on RESEARCH CHALLENGES IN INFORMATION SCIENCE (RCIS 2013) aims to offer a supportive learning opportunity for doctoral students in the early stage of their research on Information Science related problems to discuss their work in progress and to receive feedback and guidance from the RCIS 2013 audience. A panel of prominent professors and experts in the field of information science will serve as mentors during the Doctorial Consortium sessions. The conference organizers will work on ensuring that the Doctorial Consortium is well attended and have a vibrant discussion environment.

Doctoral students that are somewhere in the middle of their research are cordially invited to submit extended abstracts of their work and participate in the dedicated sessions. The topics eligible for extended abstract submissions are the same as that of the RCIS 2013 and include:

- Information System Engineering
- Requirements Engineering
- Database and Information System Integration
- Data Management
- Information Search and Discovery
- Software Testing
- Human-Computer Interaction
- Web Information Systems
- Grid Computing and Cloud Computing
- Social Computing
- User Centred Approaches
- Decision Information Systems
- Knowledge Management
- Knowledge Discovery from Data
- Business Process Analysis, Modelling and Design
- Business Applications
- Information Security Risk
- Information and Value Management

Papers may address one or more of the listed sub-topics, although authors should not feel limited by them. Unlisted but related topics are also acceptable, provided they fit in one of the conference main topics.

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

Each extended abstract should not exceed 6 pages in length and include the following:

- Introduce the field of research and identify the significant problems in it
- Clearly formulate the research questions and objectives
- Outline the current knowledge of the problem domain, as well as the state of existing solutions
- Sketch the research methodology that is being applied
- Introduce the proposed solution of the problem and the results achieved so far; state in what aspects the suggested solution is different, newer or better as compared to the existing approaches
- Indicate the outstanding issues
- Provide a list of references.

Submissions must be single-author, written in English and adhere to the IEEE 2-column format (see IEEE templates for conference proceedings http://www.ieee.org/conferences_events/conferences/publishing/templates.html).

SUBMISSION PROCESS

Submissions must be unpublished and must not be under review for any other conference, workshop or journal.

The submission site address is: <https://www.easychair.org/conferences/?conf=rcis2013>

Choose "Doctoral Consortium Papers Section".

Papers should be submitted in IEEE Xplore compliant PDF format. Please use the IEEE PDF eXpress tool \(http://www.pdf-express.org/\) to convert your source file into IEEE Xplore compliant PDF File or to check if your own PDF file is IEEE Xplore compliant. The conference ID for IEEE PDF eXpress tool will be provided soon on the RCIS 2013 web site. It is important to note that submitting a file to IEEE PDF eXpress is only for creation of a compliant PDF file, you must still submit your final paper through online submission.

All extended abstract submissions for the Doctoral Consortium will be formally reviewed by the RCIS 2013 Doctoral Consortium Program Committee to ensure every accepted submission is appropriate for the consortium.

PUBLICATION

Accepted Doctoral Consortium papers will be included in the RCIS 2013 Conference Proceedings and will be published with the IEEE Conference Publications Program through IEEE Xplore digital library.

By submitting a paper, the doctoral student implicitly agrees that in case of acceptance he/she will register to the conference and present the paper. Only papers that have been presented by their authors during the conference will be published in the IEEE Proceedings.

IMPORTANT DATES

Papers submission deadline: February 15, 2013

Notification to authors and registration opening: March 18, 2013

Camera-ready copy due: April 5, 2013

RCIS 2013 Conference: May 29-31, 2013
